1.0 PREAMBLE

The Teachers Union of Malawi (TUM) has noted with concern the current trend of lowering standards of teachers and the teaching itself. Some of the current trends are:

- The mode of teacher training leaves a lot to be desired. We need to develop a comprehensive Teacher Education and Development Programme.
- The mode of recruitment of prospective teachers does not conform to the professional procedures.
- The school environment, infrastructure, the attitude of the general public and even behaviour of school children do not entice prospective teachers into the profession.
- The coming in of the democracy to indiscipline by both teachers and learners done to misconception of democracy.
- The status of teachers in the community is at low ebb.
- There is general deterioration of teachers’ morale.
- The economic environment is not conducive to the boosting of the profession.
- There are inadequate teaching/learning materials.
- There are cross cutting issues which affect education such as HIV/AIDS, Poverty, Hunger, Traditional Culture, Child Labour, Prostitution, Floods and some other Natural Disasters.
